

Riverside Symphonia
PO Box 650
Lambertville, NJ 08530
609-397-7300
www.riversidesymphonia.org

Contact: Coline Ebeling

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RIVERSIDE SYMPHONIA PATRONS ENJOY AN ENCHANTED EVENING WITH ANGELA BROWN

Patrons celebrated the 20th Anniversary of the Riverside Symphonia last weekend beginning with a party on Friday that should have been entitled An Enchanted Evening with Angela Brown.

Spirits were high as guests shrugged off their cabin fever to attend the event held at Cradle Valley Farm in Solebury, PA. Greeted by the sounds of violin duets played by the Symphonia's concertmaster RuoTao Mao and Nelly Federova, they mingled with Ms. Brown, the famous soprano, who delighted them with her radiant personality. The magical evening, staged by Robert Goodwin and Patricia Whitman, continued with a delightful meal catered by Max Hansen. At the end of the night the guests reluctantly took their leave, but the celebration continued the next evening with a special one night only concert at the Church of St. John the Evangelist in Lambertville, NJ entitled "From Heart to Heart". Concertgoers were wowed by both Angela Brown's presence and voice and were delighted with guest conductor Roberto Gianola from Milan, Italy. The weekend's events were sponsored in part by Bruce and Patricia Hamilton of Lambertville, NJ, Candace Jones & Stephen Phillips, Rachel Finkle and Sven Helmer and C.A. Niece and Company.

The Riverside Symphonia is a professional orchestra serving the Delaware Valley and neighboring river towns of Lambertville, NJ and New Hope, PA. The Symphonia premiered in 1990 and from the beginning has successfully provided world class music at prices within the reach of all. Through the years, the orchestra has received critical acclaim, performing to consistently sold-out audiences.

For more information about the Riverside Symphonia please visit the website www.riversidesymphonia.org.